An interactive exhibit showcasing major restoration projects undertaken by The Aga Khan Historic Cities Programme including Al Azhar Park in Cairo, the stone mosques in Mali and projects in Afghanistan, India and Syria.

The exhibit provides insight into how the preservation of historic cultural and religious monuments serves as a catalyst for socio-economic development and how the revitalization of architecture can build bridges, not only between the past and the present in the Muslim world, but also between the Muslim world and the West.

This exhibition is an initiative of the Aga Khan Trust for Culture (AKTC), an agency of the Aga Khan Development Network (AKDN) (www.akdn.org) and His Highness Prince Aga Khan Shia Imami Ismaili Council for the United States of America.
